Para 6 of the Inspector Gl's Memorandum

If knowledge of English is not to be an essential qualification for candidates and is not to be insisted upon at least preference may be given to those possessing it over those that do not possess it (vide para 11 of the Memo

(2) Under para 8, half the total no: of marks are required for secur a pass. This seems to be unnecessarily high

In the Local service Examination $\frac{2}{5}$ ths of the total maximum no. of marks are sufficient. The rule may it is suggested be modified accordingly, especially as under para 9, candidates who have passed the Mysore Local service Examination will be exempted from passing in the bodes & declared eligible for appointments as Supns & Demanders.

The office is small - Local tests are higher than the tests

Memorandum (1/a)

Memorandum.

The Inspector General of Police in his recent tour of Inspection has had his attention drawn to the fact that the existing arrangements for recruiting the upper ranks of the Subordinate Police Service are far from Satisfactory. In majority of Cases men promoted from the ranks, and who have not received any training in Criminal Law and drill, and who are unable to handle a gun properly, occupy the responsible posts of Jemadar and Inspector. Some of them even unable to read and write and have to depend upon Duffedars and Constables to get Muhazurs drawn up and Special diaries written. While other professions require apprenticeship and training the Police branch of Public Service has come to be looked upon upon as one that requires no Special training or qualification in the Candidates; any person in; that has failed to obtain employment in other Departments or walks of life thinks he can make a good Policeman - This want of trained men has had a prejudicial effect upon the discipline of the Force and detection of Crime. --

2. To raise the tone of the service generally and to secure better results as regards prevention and detection of crime it is necessary that the Salary Police Officers are men well conversant with drill and shooting and able to Command a small body of men - They should also be well versed in Police Law and procedure, & able to Conduct an investigation in an intelligent manner - It is too much to expect that men promoted from the lowest ranks will be possessed of these requisites when they rise by seniority or occasional 'display' of detective ability to the posts of Jemadar and Inspector. —

3. To remedy this state of things, it is proposed to open a class in connection with the Police School in Bangalore for training Candidates for the Subordinate Police Service - The arrangements pro- posed are as follows. —

4. Applications from Candidates desirous of admission into the Police School should reach the Inspector Ge- on or before the 19 September 1892, ac- companied by references as to charact

5. Applicants should be of physique and at least 5'6" in Age to be not less than 18 and not o years - Preference will be given Sons and relations of officers in ment employ and of persons res in the Province.

6. Applicants should present themselves before the Inspector General of Police on the 22nd September 1892. They will be required to pass an examination (of the Middle School Standard) in Reading and Dictation in Canarese Arithmetic and Canarese Composition. The Candidates thus selected by the Inspector General, when passed fit by the Senior Surgeon, will be admitted into class which will be opened in Bangalore on the 3rd October 1892.

Students will be taught for months in the following subjects

The Penal Code.
Criminal Procedure Code.
Evidence Act.
Police Rules and Circulars.

Inspecter-General, and those that p

10. For the present Nominated for half the vacancies in the ap of Inspector and Jemadar throughout the Province will be made by the Inspector General from the list of passed Candidates above refered to - The remaining half of the vacancies will go to the men already in the Force who on grounds of efficiency, meritorious service or other special reasons may be recommended for promotion. —

11. In making appointments as above, preference will be given to those that have paped the University Examinations or the Criminal Tests of the force Local Service. —

The above rule will not prevent Inspector General from appointing any qualified person not coming within the two Categories above referred to the grade of Inspector on Special emds. —

The class will be held in the hall immediately behind the Fort Police Station the services of the Teaching Staff at Head Quarters will be utilized - But an extra Jemadar will be necessary on a pay of Rupees 20 + 8 with a local allowance of Rupees 5, - The Jemadar will instruct the Constables and Duffedars in the Head Qr Police School and the School Inspector will be in charge of the new class to be opened and will also supervise the teaching in the Head Quarter Police School - The Contingent of the new class will amount to per month - Altogether the extra Government will be Rupees 38/ per and this will be money well spent as it will be the means of ensuring supply of well trained men ready hand for filling the upper ra

MEMORANDUM.

The Inspector General of Police in his recent tour of inspection has had his attention drawn to the fact that the existing arrangements for recruiting the upper ranks of the Subordinate Police Service are far from satisfactory. In the majority of cases men promoted from the ranks and who have not received any training in Criminal Law and Drill, and who are unable to handle a gun properly, occupy the responsible posts of Jamedar and Inspector. Some of them are even unable to read and write well and have to depend upon Daffedars and Constables, to get Mahazars drawn up and Special diaries written. While other professions require apprenticeship and training the Police branch of Public Service has come to be looked upon as one that requires no special training or qualification in the candidates; any person that has failed to obtain employment in other Departments or walks of life thinks he can make a good Policeman. This want of trained men has had a prejudicial effect upon the discipline of the Force and detection of crime.

2. To raise the tone of the service generally and to secure better results as regards prevention and detection of crime, it is necessary that the Taluk Police Officers are men well conversant with Drill and shooting and able to command a small body of men. They should also be well versed in Police Law and Procedure, and able to conduct an investigation in an intelligent manner. It is too much to expect that men promoted from the lowest ranks will be possessed of these requisites when they rise by seniority or occasional display of detective ability to the posts of Jamedar and Inspector.

3. To remedy this state of things, it is proposed to open a class in connection with the Police School in Bangalore for training candidates for the Subordinate Police Service. The arrangements proposed are as follows:—

4. Applications from candidates desirous of admission into the Police School should reach the Inspector General on or before the 19th September 1892, accompanied by reference as to character.

5. Applicants should be of good physique and at least 5' 6" in height. Age to be not less than 18 and not over 25 years. Preference will be given to sons and relations of officers in Government employ and of persons residing in the Province.

6. Applicants should present themselves before the Inspector General of Police on the 22nd September 1892. They will be required to pass an examination (of the Middle School Standard) in Reading and Dictation in Kanarese, Arithmetic and Kanarese Composition. The candidates thus selected by the Inspector General, when passed fit by the Senior Surgeon, will be admitted into class which will be opened in Bangalore on the 3rd October 1892.

7. Students will be taught for 6 months in the following subjects:—

The Penal Code.
Criminal Procedure Code.
Evidence Act.
Police Rules and Circulars.

Drilling and Shooting and the Practical work of a Station House Officer.

8. On the 1st April 1893 the students will be examined by a Board of Examiners to be appointed by the Inspector General, and those that secure ⅓rd in each subject and ½ the total marks will be declared to have passed and certificates will be granted to them accordingly under the signature of the Inspector General.

9. Such of the candidates as have already passed the Criminal Branch of the Mysore Local Service Examination will be exempted from passing an examination in the Codes but they will be required to undergo a course of instruction in Drill and practical training in Police work and to pass an examination in them.

10. For the present nominations for half the vacancies in the grades of Inspector and Jamedar throughout the Province will be made by the Inspector General from the list of passed candidates above referred to. The remaining half of the vacancies will go to the men already in the Force who on grounds of efficiency, meritorious service or for other special reasons may be recommended for promotion.

11. In making appointments as above, preference will be given to those that have passed the University Examinations or the Criminal Tests of the Mysore Local Service.

12. The above rule will not prevent the Inspector General from appointing any qualified person not coming within the two categories above referred to, to the grade of Inspector on special grounds.

13. The class will be held in the hall immediately behind the Fort Police Station. The services of the Teaching Staff at Head-quarters will be utilized. But an extra Jamedar will be necessary on a pay of Rs. 20+8 with a local allowance of Rs. 5. The Jamedar will instruct the Constables and Dafedars in the Head-quarter Police School and the School Inspector will be in charge of the new class to be opened and will also supervise the teaching in the Head-quarter Police School. The contingencies of the new class will amount to Rs. 5 per month. Altogether the extra cost to Government will be Rs. 38 per month and this will be money well laid out as it will be the means of ensuring a supply of well trained men ready to hand for filling the upper Subordinate posts in the Police Service.

14. The dates for examination for future years will be announced in due course.

No. 3146-7—J. F. 53-92, dated Bangalore, 25th August 1892.

Order thereon.—Government generally approve of the Inspector General's proposals and consider that instead of the rule contained in para 10 of the Memorandum it may be laid down that promotions to the grades of Inspectors and Jamedars will in future be granted only to such as have qualified themselves as previously indicated except in the case of such as distinguish themselves in the Police Service and are of a certain standing in the Police Department.
